

KGC Development & Growth

Welcome to our Fall 2021 newsletter and third year for this semi-annual publication.

KGC has expanded its presence over the recent months, spanning six provinces from British Columbia to Québec. We are now actively focused on developing and securing workload in the Province of Québec and have developed strong connections in the Montréal and Québec City regions. With vast sums of Canadian Infrastructure dollars committed to the two centres, we see participation in the Province of Québec as a strategic and logical step in our business growth.

KGC continues to expand its footprint of commercial management advisory, serving the First Nations Communities and business interests in Western Canada. Environmental energy and mining remediation projects are of particular interest and favourable to First Nations business participation, regarding capacity building within their culture.

Global Pressures & Security Realities

While inflationary commodities-driven risk on projects now underway in lumber, steel, copper and concrete has abated somewhat in recent weeks, supply chain, health, environmental and labour disruptions are anticipated to plague and derail project schedules with marginal to devastating impacts.

We are pleased to report to date that KGC has verified its cloud-based service providers, offers maximum data protection to our clients through secure connections and has experienced no data breaches to date.

Multiple Expert Co-ordination

KGC Consulting Services Ltd. has enjoyed a good measure of repeat and referral work due to our ability to co-operate and co-ordinate multiple experts through our data management software. The features, benefits and efficiencies realized by legal firms and their clients translate into significant time and monetary savings.

Additionally, KGC has an extensive digital roster of experienced experts in many fields and areas including: site rezoning, geotechnical, architectural, structural, mechanical, electrical, building envelope and civil expertise. Recently we were acknowledged by a national law firm for the advantage our company provided in undertaking an assignment involving more than one expert. Read the testimonial here.

Meet another KGC expert

Jerry Crawford, PQS, MRCIS, PMP, GSC Principal Director

Jerry Crawford was the principal founder of the company in June 2015. As an industry professional Jerry brings over 40 years of accumulated experience in the building and civil construction industry, working predominantly in Canada and internationally on transportation, energy, commercial, industrial, multi-family residential, civil & building infrastructure projects during the procurement, pre-contract, execution and post contract phases. He has Canadian and international experience working in USA, Bermuda and South Africa.

Jerry recently acquired membership in the prestigious Royal Institute of Chartered Surveyors and undertook the ADRIC-RICS Adjudicator Training Program offered in the summer of 2021, following which he joined the ADRIA board of directors in August. With prompt payment and adjudication coming in the new construction legislation in Alberta in the next six months, awareness, readiness and successful process implementation in assisting clients will be paramount.

Mr. Crawford is responsible for oversight on national and international business development growth, client management, global marketing, implementing corporate processes, report editing and risk mitigation. In his spare time, he enjoys golfing, fishing and taking in the wonderful cycling trails around Calgary.
